Studies Assistance

WorldLearn supports a client organisation's skills development by providing an effective means of managing the administration of professional development needs of employees through its Studies Assistance module.

WorldLearn Studies Assistance module provides the means for a transparent approval process consistent with your learning and development policy. You will be able to reliably monitor academic outcomes of your most valuable asset and efficiently link this to expenditure in terms of both time and direct cost.

The key plank of this, as with all WorldLearn modules is flexibility. The standard module provides for many user-specified options, but as no two organisations are totally alike quite specific requirements can be incorporated into a fully customised version.

Link to Organisational Needs!

Bring clarity and accountability to your staff development program. Avoid the surprises and disappointments of unexplained absenteeism, uncompleted courses, unmet targets and failed succession plans.

Supporting You Support Them

WorldLearn Studies Assistance module is universally user-friendly, intuitive and fully configurable.

Provide closer support for your key staff as they rise to the challenge of Professional Development through formal study. Promote retention by ensuring mutual understanding of needs between individual and organisation. Enjoy the increased capacity of your valued staff as they attain mastery in the skills that your organisation requires.
